Dear Inspector General Don R. Berthiaume:

Campaign Legal Center ("CLC") requests that the Department of Justice ("DOJ") Office of Inspector General ("OIG") investigate whether the former United States Attorney for the District of New Jersey, Alina Habba,[1] violated federal financial disclosure law by failing to report her arrangement for future employment with Concord Partners on her 278 Termination Report as required by the Ethics in Government Act ("EIGA"). Specifically, Habba did not disclose her negotiation for, and acceptance of a $50 million employment contract while she was a federal employee, leaving the public in the dark and possibly violating the termination report requirements.[2] This omission calls into question the impact of Habba's prospective employment on government decision-making involving her employer.

The public has a right to know any agreements government officials make for private employment while working on behalf of the people. Disclosing contracts for future employment helps to ensure that officials are not secretly making government decisions to benefit their employers at the expense of the public. DOJ OIG should investigate Habba's omission of her employment agreement with Concord Partners from her financial disclosure report and determine whether: (1) the omission was an intentional violation of federal ethics law; and (2)

her agreement raises other conflicts of interest concerns, including any potential violations of 18 U.S.C. §§ 203, 208 and 209.

I. Covered Employees Must File Termination Reports That Include Information Regarding Future Employment

EIGA requires that "on or before the 30th day after termination of employment," covered employees must "file a report containing the information described in section 13104(a) . . ."[3] Under 5 U.S.C. § 13104(a)(7)(A), a termination report "shall include . . . a description of the date, parties to, and terms of any agreement or arrangement with respect to future employment."

OGE interprets "agreement or arrangement" broadly and recommends that filers report "any sort of arrangement for prospective future employment, formal or otherwise."[4] Additionally, once "employment negotiations have results in an actual agreement or arrangement for future employment . . . such information is required on their termination reports."[5] Inspectors General may "conduct investigations of suspected violations of . . . government ethics laws and regulations"[6]

The DOJ Inspector General may investigate allegations of . . . misconduct by a person who is the head of any agency or component of the Department of Justice"[7] and "shall forward the results of any investigation conducted . . . to the Attorney General."[8] "The Attorney General may bring a civil action . . . against any individual who knowingly and willfully fails to file or report any information that such individual is required to report."[9]

II. Alina Habba Did Not Disclose Her Agreement or Arrangement for Future Employment in her Termination Report

Public reporting indicates that Habba began negotiating an employment agreement with Concord Partners to become their general counsel in or around October 2025. She finalized the agreement in late October or early November 2025, more than a month before her official termination as the U.S. Attorney.[10]

Habba started her position at Concord Partners on January 1, 2026.[11] However, the employment arrangement does not appear on Habba's January 2, 2026 termination report, despite a clear obligation under EIGA to report "any sort of arrangement for prospective future employment, formal or otherwise."[12] The following is the only employment arrangement noted in Habba's termination report:

1	Habba Madaio & Associates LLP 401(k)	See Endnote	Bedminster, New Jersey	I no longer contribute to this active defined contribution plan, and the plan sponsor no longer makes contributions.	2/2013

Habba's failure to report the negotiated employment is a clear violation of EIGA's disclosure requirements.

III. Additional Potential Criminal Ethics Violations for Investigation

The timing and circumstances surrounding Habba's employment negotiations and the lack of information surrounding Concord Partners and Habba's role there raises additional concerns about possible conflict of interest violations she may have committed while in government service.

Concord Partners was created by Isabela Herrera, an American citizen and the daughter of billionaire Venezuelan banker Julio Herrera Velutini.[13] The company has "no public profile and its business remains unclear even to some people associated with the Herrera business empire."[14] Herrera Velutini faced felony bribery charges in the United States, and after securing a lenient plea deal for a misdemeanor campaign finance violation in August 2025, he sought out a full pardon.

Habba's employment as general counsel at Concord Partners began on January 1, 2026, and her employment contract guaranteed more than $50 million over four years, including bonuses.[15] On January 15, 2026, President Trump pardoned Herrera Velutini. According to reports, "people familiar with Ms. Habba's contract said they believed that she was brought in to help with Mr. Herrera [Velutini]'s push for a pardon and expressed surprise at the scale of the compensation."[16]

Habba's failure to disclose her employment and any negotiations surrounding that employment means there could not be a real-time assessment of possible conflicts of interest while she was in office. The OIG should investigate whether she participated in any particular matters involving Concord Partners while in office, and whether any such participation constitutes a violation of additional federal ethics laws, including 18 U.S.C. §§ 203 (prohibition on compensation for representational services while in office), 208 (federal criminal conflict of interest statute), and 209 (prohibition on supplementation of salary).

IV. Conclusion

The foregoing facts establish reason to believe that Habba did not report her employment agreement with Concord Partners in violation of EIGA. According to Habba's termination report, Habba's tenure as U.S. Attorney for the District of New Jersey ended on December 18, 2025 and she filed her termination report on January 2, 2026.[17] This means that Habba entered into an agreement with Concord Partners while still working as U.S. Attorney and had already started her job at Concord prior to filing her termination report. An investigation is needed to determine whether Habba did so intentionally.

Additionally, the lack of information surrounding Concord Partners' creation, the timing of Habba's hiring, and the details of her compensation show the severity of the damage to the public's trust caused by Habba's failure to disclose the arrangement and raise legitimate questions as to whether Herrera violated additional laws, underscoring the need for a full factfinding by the DOJ IG.

Summary of Contents

1. Filer's Positions Held Outside United States Government

Part 1 discloses positions that the filer held at any time during the reporting period (excluding positions with the United States Government). Positions are reportable even if the filer did not receive compensation.

This section does not include the following: (1) positions with religious, social, fraternal, or political organizations; (2) positions solely of an honorary nature; (3) positions held as part of the filer's official duties with the United States Government; (4) mere membership in an organization; and (5) passive investment interests as a limited partner or non-managing member of a limited liability company.

2. Filer's Employment Assets & Income and Retirement Accounts

Part 2 discloses the following:

- Sources of earned and other non-investment income of the filer totaling more than $200 during the reporting period (e.g., salary, fees, partnership share, honoraria, scholarships, and prizes)
- Assets related to the filer's business, employment, or other income-generating activities (1) that ended the reporting period with a value greater than $1,000 or (2) from which more than $200 in income was received during the reporting period (e.g., equity in business or partnership, stock options, retirement plans/accounts and their underlying holdings as appropriate, deferred compensation, and intellectual property, such as book deals and patents)

This section does not include assets or income from United States Government employment or assets that were acquired separately from the filer's business, employment, or other income-generating activities (e.g., assets purchased through a brokerage account). Note: The type of income is not required if the amount of income is $0 - $200 or if the asset qualifies as an excepted investment fund (EIF).

3. Filer's Employment Agreements and Arrangements

Part 3 discloses agreements or arrangements that the filer had during the reporting period with an employer or former employer (except the United States Government), such as the following:

- Future employment
- Leave of absence
- Continuing payments from an employer, including severance and payments not yet received for previous work (excluding ordinary salary from a current employer)
- Continuing participation in an employee welfare, retirement, or other benefit plan, such as pensions or a deferred compensation plan
- Retention or disposition of employer-awarded equity, sharing in profits or carried interests (e.g., vested and unvested stock options, restricted stock, future share of a company's profits, etc.)

4. Filer's Sources of Compensation Exceeding $5,000 in a Year

Part 4 discloses sources (except the United States Government) that paid more than $5,000 in a calendar year for the filer's services during any year of the reporting period.

The filer discloses payments both from employers and from any clients to whom the filer personally provided services. The filer discloses a source even if the source made its payment to the filer's employer and not to the filer. The filer does not disclose a client's payment to the filer's employer if the filer did not provide the services for which the client is paying.

5. Spouse's Employment Assets & Income and Retirement Accounts

Part 5 discloses the following:

- Sources of earned income (excluding honoraria) for the filer's spouse totaling more than $1,000 during the reporting period (e.g., salary, consulting fees, and partnership share)
- Sources of honoraria for the filer's spouse greater than $200 during the reporting period
- Assets related to the filer's spouse's employment, business activities, other income-generating activities (1) that ended the reporting period with a value greater than $1,000 or (2) from which more than $200 in income was received during the reporting period (e.g., equity in business or partnership, stock options, retirement plans/accounts and their underlying holdings as appropriate, deferred compensation, and intellectual property, such as book deals and patents)

This section does not include assets or income from United States Government employment or assets that were acquired separately from the filer's spouse's business, employment, or other income-generating activities (e.g., assets purchased through a brokerage account). Note: The type of income is not required if the amount of income is $0 - $200 or if the asset qualifies as an excepted investment fund (EIF). Amounts of income are not required for a spouse's earned income (excluding honoraria).

6. Other Assets and Income

Part 6 discloses each asset, not already reported, (1) that ended the reporting period with a value greater than $1,000 or (2) from which more than $200 in investment income was received during the reporting period. For purposes of the value and income thresholds, the filer aggregates the filer's interests with those of the filer's spouse and dependent children.

This section does not include the following types of assets: (1) a personal residence (unless it was rented out during the reporting period); (2) income or retirement benefits associated with United States Government employment (e.g., Thrift Savings Plan); and (3) cash accounts (e.g., checking, savings, money market accounts) at a single financial institution with a value of $5,000 or less (unless more than $200 in income was received). Additional exceptions apply. Note: The type of income is not required if the amount of income is $0 - $200 or if the asset qualifies as an excepted investment fund (EIF).

7. Transactions

Part 7 discloses purchases, sales, or exchanges of real property or securities in excess of $1,000 made on behalf of the filer, the filer's spouse or dependent child during the reporting period.

This section does not include transactions that concern the following: (1) a personal residence, unless rented out; (2) cash accounts (e.g., checking, savings, CDs, money market accounts) and money market mutual funds; (3) Treasury bills, bonds, and notes; and (4) holdings within a federal Thrift Savings Plan account. Additional exceptions apply.

8. Liabilities

Part 8 discloses liabilities over $10,000 that the filer, the filer's spouse or dependent child owed at any time during the reporting period.

This section does not include the following types of liabilities: (1) mortgages on a personal residence, unless rented out (note: certain PAS nominees and appointees are required to report all mortgages); (2) loans secured by a personal motor vehicle, household furniture, or appliances, unless the loan exceeds the item's purchase price; and (3) revolving charge accounts, such as credit card balances, if the outstanding liability did not exceed $10,000 at the end of the reporting period. Additional exceptions apply.

9. Gifts and Travel Reimbursements

This section discloses:

- Gifts totaling more than $480 that the filer, the filer's spouse, and dependent children received from any one source during the reporting period.
- Travel reimbursements totaling more than $480 that the filer, the filer's spouse, and dependent children received from any one source during the reporting period.

For purposes of this section, the filer need not aggregate any gift or travel reimbursement with a value of $192 or less. Regardless of the value, this section does not include the following items: (1) anything received from relatives; (2) anything received from the United States Government or from the District of Columbia, state, or local governments; (3) bequests and other forms of inheritance; (4) gifts and travel reimbursements given to the filer's agency in connection with the filer's official travel; (5) gifts of hospitality (food, lodging, entertainment) at the donor's residence or personal premises; and (6) anything received by the filer's spouse or dependent children totally independent of their relationship to the filer. Additional exceptions apply.
