Introduction

In Alabama, the law regarding which people with past convictions can and cannot vote has been confusing. In 2017, the Alabama Legislature passed a new law clarifying the rules and likely enfranchising tens of thousands or more Alabamans. There are likely tens of thousands more Alabamans with past convictions that are eligible to receive a mandatory voting rights restoration if they apply.

But these laws will only empower voters if they know about their eligibility. Many people with convictions assume they are not eligible and many people with convictions have been wrongly told they are not eligible. This manual is designed to arm citizens with convictions, activists, and advocates with all the tools you'll need to help people in Alabama know if they can vote or to restore their right to vote.

Felony disenfranchisement laws silence the voices of over 5 million citizens who are banned from the polls today. As many as 75 percent of these disenfranchised voters are no longer in prison but are not able to vote. Citizens with past felony convictions work and pay taxes, and should have a say in deciding their community's and the nation's laws that directly impact their lives. Denying these citizens with past felony convictions the opportunity to fully integrate as members of society sends the message that they will permanently be treated as second-class citizens. Studies have shown that restoring the vote to persons leaving prison could aid their transition back into community life.

In addition, felony disenfranchisement laws are largely the legacy of the Jim Crow era, continue to primarily impact People of Color, and therefore distort our democracy. Nearly half of voters disenfranchised through these laws are Black. Disenfranchisement not only impacts citizens with past convictions themselves, but also disempowers the minority groups to which they belong.

Some U.S. states have no restrictions on voting, while others have a lifetime ban upon conviction. Twelve states, including Alabama, permanently disenfranchise some or all citizens convicted of felony offenses.

Alabama's law prevents some people from ever voting again even after they have fully served their sentence while others are only able to restore their rights if they affirmatively apply. Alabama is one of 11 other states that restrict voting rights even after a person has served his or her prison sentence and is no longer on probation or parole. Based on the most recent estimates, over 328,000 Alabamians have been convicted of a felony: 9% of the entire state-wide voting-age population and 16% of the adult Black male voting-age population.¹

Alabama passed a new law in 2017 that clarified which convictions disqualify a person from voting, effectively giving the right to vote back to a large number of people who had lost or thought they had lost that right. The good news is that roughly 139,000 Alabamians have only been convicted of non-disqualifying convictions, meaning they can vote if they know that they are eligible. For the remaining people with convictions, most can restore their voting rights through a simple application.

This manual first details how you can determine what a person's path to rights restoration will look like: if they ever lost their right to vote, whether they can apply to the state to have it restored, if they will need to remit their fines and fees, or if they will need a pardon. It also includes template versions of the paperwork a person may need to complete and contact information for some groups who can help further.

We hope that this information and material will be of use to those who seek to strengthen democracy and their communities by empowering those whose voices have been silenced by felony disenfranchisement.

Working with Disenfranchised Citizens

When assisting people with convictions, it is important to keep in mind that they may have particular sensitivities and privacy concerns. So, please:

- Be welcoming and personable. Understand that there can be guilt and stigma associated with having a criminal record.
- Be patient. The person you are helping may be emotional or nervous in recalling the details of their conviction.
- Respect the privacy of the person you are assisting. Keep the conversation private by speaking at a reasonable volume and finding a space away from others. All assistance should be confidential.
- Don't pry into their personal business. Questions of innocence or morality regarding their conviction are irrelevant to rights restoration and should not be discussed.
- Do not pass judgment. It is important to enter this work aware of your own biases. Be mindful of your tone of voice and facial expressions. Do not talk down.

The bottom line is to remember that all people deserve dignity and respect.

The Path to Rights Restoration

This section details the steps to determining the voting rights of people with convictions in Alabama. It will help you determine whether an individual has the right to vote or has the ability to restore their right to vote. It includes many details to thoroughly give information about a range of possible situations. But for most people, rights restoration is not complicated and many of these footnotes and tips will not apply. Helping someone restore their rights can be as simple as glancing at the list of disqualifying convictions. If a person does not have a conviction on the disqualifying list, they can immediately register to vote. Even if a person needs to fill out the required paperwork to restore their rights, it often should not take more than ten minutes.

After you have read through this section or helped a few people through the process, it may be easier to refer to the short Rights Restoration Worksheet and the following flow chart when assisting a person with a conviction.

Step 1: Checking whether the person's conviction was disqualifying

In May of 2017 Alabama passed a new law that effectively re-enfranchised many people who had lost their right to vote or thought that they had lost it because of their conviction(s).

Ask the person you are helping if they remember their exact conviction(s). Check the list on page 14 to see if the conviction(s) is on the list. If they are NOT on that list, the person never lost their right to vote. That means that they are eligible to register to vote now and need not take additional steps except for registering like all other citizens. This is true regardless of whether they are currently incarcerated² and whether they owe any legal financial obligations to the state. Skip to step 2 for information on registration.

If a person does have a disqualifying conviction, skip to step 3 for more information about rights restoration

TIPS:

- Ask about the degree of a person's conviction. Many convictions in the third degree are not on the list, such as burglary 3rd.
- There are no drug-related crimes on the list except trafficking. Distribution and possession convictions are not disqualifying.
- Crimes prosecuted under the youthful offender statutes³ are not disqualifying.

It is important to know that many people were wrongly told by the state that they had lost their right to vote before the 2017 law went into effect. If someone was told by the state, often by having their registration rejected or receiving a notice in the mail, that they had lost the right to vote before August of 2017, there is a very real possibility that that information was incorrect. In other words, questions about a person's right to vote are not resolved by information they received from the state before August 2017.

² People who have not lost their right to vote but are incarcerated are entitled to vote by absentee ballot. See part VI.

Sometimes people cannot remember their exact convictions, maybe because they occurred a long time ago or because they were charged with something different than what they were convicted of. If this is the case, we or another group can help them look it up in the state's database. Please give us a call at 202-736-2200. Additionally, any attorney in Alabama with access to Alacourt can access this information. A person can also check in with the Board of Pardons and Paroles or local courthouse to access this information as well. Feel free to contact us for assistance.

Federal and out-of-state convictions may be disqualifying if their definitions mirror the state law crime on the disqualifying list.

Step 2: Registering to vote

A person may register to vote by filling out an online form, filling out and mailing to their local or the state-wide registrar's office the paper registration form found on pages 15-16, or by going to their local registrar's office in-person.

-To register online, visit: <http://sos.alabama.gov/alabama-votes/voter/register-to-vote>

-To register by mail: Fill out the form on pages 15-16 and mail it to your local registrar's office, listed by county in the index.

-To register in person: Visit your local registrar's offices. Addresses are listed in the index.

The deadline to register to vote is fifteen days before an election. For up to date information on upcoming elections and deadlines, visit <http://sos.alabama.gov/alabama-votes/voter/upcoming-elections>

Occasionally people who are qualified to vote are denied registration by error. If you have determined that someone is eligible to vote and helped them register, you should check this website after 14 days to see if they are registered to vote:

<https://myinfo.alabamavotes.gov/voterview> or call 1-800-274-8683.

If they are not in the system after two weeks, you can follow up with the local registrar's office or call RestoreYourVote at 888-306-8683 and we will follow up.

Step 2(a). Registering incarcerated people to vote

If you are working with people who are currently incarcerated, step 1 should be performed in the same way as described above. Unfortunately, if a person who is incarcerated has been convicted of a disqualifying felony, they will not be able to restore their rights until their sentence is complete.

However, if an incarcerated person has not been convicted of a disqualifying felony, then they retain the right to vote. Their path to registration and casting their ballot, however, may more complicated than for someone who is not incarcerated.

For more information or assistance visit RestoreYourVote.org

A. Registering to vote

The first step towards voting for someone who is incarcerated is to register to vote, either by mail or online. See above, Section 2. If a person wishes to vote at their last address before being incarcerated, they may, or they may use the address of the facility at which they are incarcerated.

The deadline to register to vote is fifteen days before an election.

B. Requesting an absentee ballot

People who are incarcerated can vote only by absentee ballot. They must fill out a form to request the ballot.

After years of advocacy by TOPS and other groups, the absentee ballot request form now includes a box stating, "I am currently incarcerated in prison or jail and have not been convicted of a felony involving moral turpitude." Individuals who are requesting to vote by mail because they will be incarcerated on Election Day should check this box.

- Absentee ballot requests are specific to particular elections and will only cover elections within 42 days of each other. Practically speaking, this means a person will likely have to fill out a new application to receive a ballot for every primary and general election.
- Applications for absentee ballot must be received five days before an election. You may need to build in extra time to ensure that the ballot is received on time.
- Send each application in a separate envelope to the Absentee Election Manager in the county in which the voter is registered. The applications for each county are available here: <https://www.sos.alabama.gov/alabama-votes/absentee-ballot-applications>

C. Casting an absentee ballot

The absentee ballot comes with 3 envelopes -- one plain (the secrecy envelope), one with an affidavit, or oath, printed on the outside, and one plain pre-addressed envelope, (the outer envelope). Once the voter casts the ballot, the procedure is as follows:

- Seal the ballot in the plain envelope
- Place the plain envelope inside the accompanying affidavit envelope
- Seal the affidavit envelope and complete the affidavit that is on the outside of the envelope
- Sign the affidavit and have the signature witnessed by either a notary public or two witnesses 18 years of age or older

WITNESSES OR NOTARIZATION

An absentee ballot cannot be counted unless the affidavit is notarized or has the signatures of two witnesses.

For more information or assistance visit RestoreYourVote.org

The voter has only the following legal ways to return the absentee ballot:

- forwards the absentee ballot by U.S. Mail
- forwards the absentee ballot by commercial carrier
- personally hands their own absentee ballot to the absentee election manager (or delivers by a designee in the case of emergency absentee voting)

An absentee ballot returned by mail must be postmarked no later than the day prior to the election and received by the Absentee Election Manager no later than noon on Election Day. If hand-delivered, the ballot must be in the office of the Absentee Election Manager by the close of business (but no later than 5 p.m.) on the day prior to the election.

Do not return multiple ballots in one envelope.

2(b). Voter ID requirements

Voters in Alabama are now required to present photo identification at the polls or to enclose a copy of identification in their absentee ballot application.

The following forms of ID are acceptable:

- Valid Driver's License
- Valid Non-driver ID
- Valid Alabama Photo Voter ID
- Valid State Issued ID (Alabama or any other state)
- Valid Federal Issued ID
- Valid US Passport
- Valid Employee ID from Federal Government, State of Alabama, County Government,
- Municipality, Board, Authority, or other entity of this state
- Valid student or employee ID from a college or university in the State of Alabama (including postgraduate technical or professional schools)
- Valid Military ID
- Valid Tribal ID

If you do not possess one of these forms of ID, you are eligible to receive a free voter ID. To get a free voter ID you must go in person to your local Board of Registrar's office, the Secretary of State's Office in Montgomery, or to one of the roving mobile units, the schedules for which are posted online.

3. Requesting a Certificate of Eligibility to Register to Vote (CERV) for people with disqualifying convictions

Even if someone has a disqualifying conviction, as determined under step one, that does not mean they can never vote. Many people with convictions are eligible to restore their right to vote through a simple application process. Voters who meet the eligibility requirements for a CERV must be given a CERV that will allow them to register to vote within 44 days; it is not a discretionary process.

A . Determine eligibility for a CERV

A person is eligible if they meet all of the following four criteria:

- i. They do not have a conviction of impeachment, murder, rape, sodomy, sexual abuse, sexual crimes against children, or treason. (If they do have one of these convictions, skip to step 5 of this section);
- ii. They do not have any felony charges currently pending;
- iii. They do not owe any outstanding fines, fees, or restitution from the disqualifying conviction (if they do, skip to step 3 of this section);

-It is important to note that outstanding fines, fees, or restitution are only relevant to voting rights if they are connected to a disqualifying conviction. For example, if someone has a conviction of Burglary 2nd (disqualifying) and Burglary 3rd (not disqualifying) and owes fines and fees under the Burglary 3rd conviction, they do not owe any relevant fines or fees for purposes of the CERV.

-For those who are not sure whether they owe fines, fees, or restitution, or are not sure which conviction they are connected with, this information can be looked up by us, another group, or they may call the Board of Pardons and Paroles to request it.

- If they do owe disqualifying fines, fees, or restitution, skip to section 4.

- iv. Their sentence for the disqualifying conviction must be complete, including all probation and parole. If this is not yet the case, they can apply for a pardon (see step 4).

B. If eligible, fill out the form to request a CERV

If a person meets all of the above criteria, they are eligible for a CERV. CERV's are not discretionary – if a person meets the criteria the state must grant it within 44 days.⁴ There are two ways to apply for a CERV:

- i. The person you are assisting may go in person to the local Board of Pardons and Paroles office and fill out a form there. Address for these office in each county can be found at: <http://www.pardons.state.al.us/Offices.aspx> and in the index of this packet.

⁴ AL Code § 15-22-36.1(c)-(f).

This may be the best option for ensuring that a CERV is granted in a timely manner.

ii. Fill out and mail in the form on pages 17-18.

The person you are assisting or you should fill out as much information as possible. If you do not have some information or a section does not apply to the person you are helping, that may be okay as long as the form includes their name, mailing address, date of birth, list of all convictions (using the back if necessary), and their signature.

Important: the form must be signed. The form might not be processed without a physical signature.

Mail the form to the local Board of Pardons and Paroles office found here, <http://www.pardons.state.al.us/Offices.aspx>, and in the index OR to

The Alabama Board of Pardons and Paroles
PO Box 302405 Montgomery, AL 36130-2405

If you are working with a community organization, we recommend asking if you can make a record of the person's name and contact information, and note the date the request was sent, so that you may follow up with that person in 44 days to ensure that the CERV has arrived. If it has not, it is worth following up with the Board of Pardons and Paroles to find the root of the delay. RestoreYourVote is tracking lengthy delays; please report these incidents to us.

After the person has received their CERV in the mail, they should make a copy and attach it to their completed voter registration form before submitting it to the state.

4. Request for remission of fines and fees

If a person owes outstanding fines, fees, or restitution that were imposed because of the disqualifying conviction, they are not yet eligible to restore their right to vote through the CERV process. They may, however, ask the Board of Pardons and Paroles to reduce or forgive those fines or fees.

If they have outstanding fines or fees but they were imposed in connection with a conviction that was not a disqualifying felony, they are not a barrier to restoring their rights or registering to vote.

If they are not sure whether they owe fines or fees, or are unsure of which conviction they are related to, we or another organization with access to Alacourt can help them find out.

A person can request a reduction or forgiveness of fines or fees:

-By filling out the forms on page 19-21 and mailing it to The Alabama Board of Pardons and Paroles, PO Box 302405, Montgomery, AL 36130-2405,

For more information or assistance visit RestoreYourVote.org

The Board can only reduce or forgive fines and fees that have been imposed by the state of Alabama, not by other states or the United States government.⁵

NOTE on D-999 Fees:

It is important to note that some people are charged fees that are not part of their disqualifying debt. The most common is a collections fee labeled "D-999" in Alacourt. D-999s may be added to someone's debt once they are discharged from their sentence, even when they have been making payments, and are often an additional 33% on their debt. A D-999 fee does not have to be paid in order to be eligible for a CERV but by default a person's payments will first be directed to the D-999, then to the disqualifying debt. In effect, this will mean the person ends up paying off the D-999 in order to seek their CERV.

To remedy this, a person may submit a re-prioritization of costs form directing the court to apply their payments first to their disqualifying debt so that they will become eligible to restore their voting rights sooner.

That form is found here: <https://eforms.alacourt.gov/media/0xde2ibh/request-to-reprioritize-costs-1-2019.pdf>

5. Request for a pardon

If someone has a conviction of murder, rape, sodomy, sexual abuse, or sexual crimes against children, they are not eligible for a CERV but may still be able to restore their right to vote by seeking a pardon from the Board of Pardons and Paroles. Additionally, a person who is not eligible for a CERV because they are still on probation or because they owe outstanding fines and fees may also apply for a pardon. A person is not eligible for a pardon if they have been convicted of treason, impeachment, or if a death sentence has been imposed and not commuted.⁶

The pardon application and instructions are on pages 22-24.

⁵ More information can be found on the Board of Pardons and Paroles' website: http://www.pardons.state.al.us/Rules.aspx#Article_Nine.

⁶ More information on pardons is found online with the Board of Pardons and Paroles: http://www.pardons.state.al.us/Rules.aspx#Article_Eight.

5) The time needed to complete an investigation varies from case to case and depends on numerous factors, so no completion date estimate will be provided.

6) The Board will only grant a remission of fines and/or forfeitures in cases to which the State of Alabama is a party.

7) If the Board grants a remission, the Board will also decide whether the remission applies to some or all imposed fines and/or forfeitures. However, all other portions of the file shall remain privileged.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR APPLYING FOR A PARDON

Alabama law allows convicted persons to apply for a pardon, subject to the procedures specified by law. These procedures give the Alabama Board of Pardons and Paroles the discretionary authority to grant or deny pardon applications. The Board may also consider pardons for convictions in the courts of the United States or of other states if the petitioner is, at the time of application and consideration, an Alabama resident.

Under Alabama law, the following persons may not apply for a pardon: persons convicted of treason and impeachment and persons sentenced to death and such a sentence is not commuted. For a person whose sentence to death has been commuted, such a person shall not be eligible for a pardon unless (1) sufficient evidence is presented to the Board to satisfy it that the person was innocent of the crime for which he or she was convicted, (2) the Board votes unanimously to grant the person a pardon, and (3) the Governor concurs in and approves the granting of the pardon.

PLEASE READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS BEFORE PROCEEDING WITH YOUR REQUEST.

All applications for a pardon are considered requests for a Full Pardon. HOWEVER, the Board retains the discretion to grant, as an alternative to a Full Pardon, a Pardon for Licensing/Bonding, a Pardon with Gun Rights (for Alabama convictions only), or a Pardon Excluding Gun Rights.

1) Complete the "PARDON APPLICATION" form and complete a "WAIVER OF LIABILITY AND AUTHORITY FOR RELEASE OF INFORMATION" form. These forms must be submitted to the Alabama Bureau of Pardons and Paroles at the following address:

Alabama Bureau of Pardons and Paroles
P.O. Box 302405
Montgomery, AL 36130-2405
Email: pardons@paroles.alabama.gov

2) No pardon investigation will be completed except at the request of the person whose conviction is at issue.

3) To be considered for a pardon, an applicant must have either completed his or her sentence or have successfully served at least three (3) years on parole for the sentence for which the applicant seeks a pardon.

4) Notwithstanding the foregoing, a pardon based on innocence may be granted upon the unanimous affirmative of the Board following receipt and filing of clear proof of his or her innocence of the crime for which he or she was convicted and the written approval of the judge who tried his or her case or district attorney or with the approval of a circuit judge in the circuit where he or she was convicted if the judge who tried his or her case is no longer serving.

5) Upon receiving the application and waiver, the Bureau's Pardon Unit will begin investigating the applicant's case. The investigation includes current information on the applicant's home situation, job status, an updated criminal arrest record, written references, and other information as warranted. Additionally, pardon applicants must fully cooperate with the investigation of his or her criminal history, personal and social history, and the circumstances of his or her crime.

6) When the investigation is complete, the case will be docketed for consideration by the Board, and once the case is docketed, required notification will be sent to the victim, certain official s in the jurisdiction of the conviction, and the applicant.

7) The time needed to complete the investigation depends on numerous factors, and no estimate will be provided.

8) If the Board grants a pardon, the Board will also decide whether to restore any or all civil and political rights lost as a result of the conviction. As required by law, Board Members shall provide the reasons supporting their decision to grant a pardon in its file. The Board's order granting a pardon will be made a matter of public record. All other portions of the file shall remain subject to statutory privilege.

9) If the Board declines to grant a pardon and/or to restore any or all civil and political rights, the applicant may not re-apply until at least two (2) years have passed from the date of the Board's action, unless expressly ordered by the Board. Any application submitted within two (2) years of the applicant's last application will be subject to rejection.

Know Your Rights! Voting in Alabama for People with Convictions

Who can vote?

Under Alabama law, you have the right to vote if: You are a United States Citizen; you reside in Alabama; you are at least 18 years old; you have not been legally declared “mentally incompetent” by a court; you have not been convicted of a disqualifying felony listed on the back of this page.

What is a disqualifying felony?

As of August 2017, disqualifying felonies are only those listed on the back of this page. If you have not been convicted of one of the crimes listed on the back of this page, you do not have a disqualifying felony conviction and are eligible to vote.

What if I want to vote but my registration was rejected?

Before August 2017, the definition of disqualifying felonies was left up to individual registrars. This meant that some people were wrongly told they were ineligible to vote. If you have NOT been convicted of a disqualifying felony, you ARE able to register right now, even if you were incorrectly told that you were ineligible.

If I have a disqualifying conviction, can I get the right to vote back now that I am out of prison?

Maybe. A person with a disqualifying conviction can, sometimes, restore his or her right to vote by applying for a Certificate of Eligibility to Register to Vote (CERV).

You are eligible for a CERV if:

- You have not been convicted of one of the following crimes: Impeachment, murder, rape, sodomy, sexual abuse, sexual crimes against children, or treason.
- You do not have any felony charges currently pending.
- You have paid all legal fines and fees, as well as any victim restitution, ordered by the court that sentenced you for your disqualifying conviction.
- You completed your sentence, were pardoned, or completed probation or parole.

For more information about applying for a CERV, visit the Board of Pardons and Paroles website: <https://paroles.alabama.gov/about-us/pardons-restoration-of-voting-rights/>. If you are not eligible for a CERV, you can apply for a pardon to restore your voting rights. Whether you receive a pardon is up to the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

What if I have more questions?

If you have additional questions or want help registering to vote or applying for a CERV, call Blair Bowie at (888) 306-8683 or visit RestoreYourVote.org.
