Submitted via mailbox_office@ethics.senate.gov

Dear Chairman Coons and Vice Chairman Lankford:

Campaign Legal Center ("CLC") respectfully requests that the U.S. Senate Select Committee on Ethics ("Ethics Committee") disclose whether it authorized the stock holdings of senior staff who appear to violate the committee-staff stock ban.

This ban prohibits committee staff from owning "any substantial holdings which may be directly affected by the actions of the committee" for which they work, unless given written permission by the Ethics Committee. ${ }^{1}$ Despite this ban, senior staff own stock that conflicts with their committees. Without transparency from the Ethics Committee on whether written waivers were issued, these staff members appear to violate Senate rules.

For over forty years, the committee-staff stock ban has existed due to the influence and sensitive information held by senior staff. The ban attempts to prevent insider trading and conflicts of interest, but the Ethics Committee can waive this ban behind closed doors. The Ethics Committee must be transparent about waivers of the ban because the public has a right [^0]to know whether senior staff are acting in the public's interest or in their own financial interests.

I. Senate Rules Ban Committee Staff from Owning Substantial Stocks Related to Their Committees

Senate Rule 37.7 is the conflict-of-interest rule governing committee staff. The rule states:
"An employee on the staff of a committee who is compensated at a rate in excess of $$ 25,000$ per annum and employed for more than ninety days in a calendar year shall divest himself of any substantial holdings which may be directly affected by the actions of the committee for which he works, unless the [Ethics] Committee, after consultation with the employee's supervisor, grants permission in writing to retain such holdings or the employee makes other arrangements acceptable to the [Ethics] Committee and the employee's supervisor to avoid participation in committee actions where there is a conflict of interest, or the appearance thereof." ${ }^{2}$

The requirement in Rule 37.7 does not define "substantial holding" or explain how the Ethics Committee determines when a holding qualifies for an exception to the divestiture requirement.

The most recent public guidance from the Ethics Committee interpreting this rule is from 1978, when the Committee issued Interpretive Ruling 147. ${ }^{3}$ The committee was specifically asked to define "substantial holdings" and "holdings which may be directly affected by actions of the Committee," as well as to provide procedures to gain an exception to the rule for certain holdings. ${ }^{4}$

In Interpretive Ruling 147, the Ethics Committee declined to provide detailed guidance, stating that the Ethics Committee "does not believe that the issuance of specific guidelines to be applied uniformly to all staff is practical due to the diversity of circumstances and jurisdictions of committees." ${ }^{5}$ Instead, the Ethics Committee surrendered to a system of selfpolicing, where the chairman of the each committee would "initiate appropriate steps to ascertain the extent, if any, of the possibility of the

[^1]appearance of a conflict of interest due to the holdings of committee staff persons" and "suggest a course of action [the chairman] deems to be an acceptable solution." ${ }^{6}$

II. Committee Staff Own Stock In Conflict with Their Committees

In 5 Senate committees, 5 staff members own stock in at least 11 companies that appear to conflict with jurisdiction of the staff's respective committees.

COMMITTEE STAFF STOCK CONFLICTS

| SENATE COMMITTEE | COMMITTEE JURISDICTION ${ }^{7}$ | STOCK HOLDINGS OF SENIOR STAFF MEMBER |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry | "Agricultural commodities... Animal industry and diseases...Inspection of livestock, meat, and agricultural products" | - Nutrien, LTD  - Sanderson Farms  - Zoetis Inc. |
| Armed Services | "Aeronautical and space activities peculiar to or primarily associated with the development of weapons systems or military operations" | - General Dynamics  - Lockheed Martin |
| Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs | "Banks, banking, and financial institutions" | - Bank of America  - MBIA Inc.  - Wells Fargo & Company |
| Commerce, Science, and Transportation | "[C]onsumer privacy and data security protection" | - Cisco Systems  - Palo Alto Networks |
| Finance | "Medicare, Medicaid .... Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services" | - Centene Corporation |

A. Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry

The Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry ("Agriculture Committee") has jurisdiction over, among other things: agriculture and agricultural commodities; animal industry and diseases; and inspection of livestock, meat, and agricultural products. ${ }^{8}$

A senior staff member for the Agriculture Committee owns stock in the following companies that appear to conflict with the committee's jurisdiction:

- Nutrien, LTD - one of the world's largest crop fertilizer producers ($4,004-$60,000; purchased 2/12/21, 2/18/21, 2/19/21, $3 / 1 / 21)^{9}$

[^2]- Sanderson Farms - one of the country's largest poultry producers $($ 15,001-$ 50,000)^{10}$
- Zoetis - the world's largest producer of medicine for livestock ( $$ 1,001-$ 15,000$; partially sold on $6 / 22 / 2021)^{11}$

B. Senate Committee on Armed Services

The Senate Committee on Armed Services ("Armed Services Committee") has jurisdiction over, among other things, "aeronautical and space activities peculiar to or primarily associated with the development of weapons systems or military operations," and the affairs of the Pentagon. ${ }^{12}$

An individual on its staff owns stock in two of the largest U.S. defense contractors:

- General Dynamics ($1,001-$15,000)
- Lockheed Martin ($1,001-$15,000) ${ }^{13}$

The Armed Services Committee has jurisdiction over the annual defense authorization bill that determines the Pentagon's defense budget, which directly affects the contracting capabilities for companies like Lockheed Martin and General Dynamics. ${ }^{14}$

C. Senate Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs

The Senate Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs ("Banking Committee") has jurisdiction over "banks, banking, and financial institutions." ${ }^{15}$

[^3]A senior staff member for the committee owns stock in the following financial institutions:

- Bank of America $($ 16,002-$ 65,000)$
- MBIA Inc. ($15,001-$50,000)
- Wells Fargo $($ 65,002-$ 150,000){ }^{16}$

Representatives from these financial institutions are not only regulated by the Banking Committee; their leaders regularly testify before the committee as it conducts oversight and weighs laws. For example, the heads of Bank of America and Wells Fargo testified before the Banking Committee in a hearing on oversight of U.S. banks on May 26, $2021 .{ }^{17}$

D. Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation

The Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation ("Commerce Committee") has broad jurisdiction over a range of issues, and therefore is composed of 7 subcommittees. ${ }^{18}$ One of those subcommittees is the Consumer Protection, Product Safety, and Data Security Subcommittee. That subcommittee, among other things, has jurisdiction over "consumer privacy and data security protection, and international data transfer issues." ${ }^{19}$

A senior staff member on the Consumer Protection Subcommittee owns stock in the following cybersecurity companies:

- Cisco Systems ($15,001-$50,000)
- Palo Alto Networks ($1,001-$15,000). ${ }^{20}$

Both companies are overseen by the committee under its "consumer privacy and data security protection" jurisdiction.

E. Senate Committee on Finance

The Senate Committee on Finance ("Finance Committee") has jurisdiction over "health programs under the Social Security Act, including Medicare, Medicaid .... Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services." ${ }^{21}$

One of the Finance Committee's senior staff members has owned stocks in Centene Corporation ( $$ 1,001-$ 15,000$; sold $9 / 14 / 2021$ ), ${ }^{22}$ the nation's largest Medicaid managed care organization, which appears to conflict with the committee's jurisdiction over Medicaid.

III. The Ethics Committee Has Not Disclosed Whether the Senate Rules Were Waived to Allow Committee Staff Stock Holdings

The stock ownership by these committee staff members raises serious questions about conflicts of interest with committee jurisdiction and oversight. The relationship between the companies in which the staff members own stock and the jurisdiction of the committees on which they serve implicate Senate Rule 37.7.

However, the Ethics Committee's enforcement of Senate Rule 37.7 is not transparent. Specifically, the rule only requires divesture of "any substantial holdings which may be directly affected by the actions of the committee for which he works." ${ }^{23}$ Yet, the Ethics Committee fails to publicly explain what constitutes a "substantial holding."

More importantly, the rule also allows for exceptions to the divestiture requirement if a staff member receives written permission from the Ethics Committee. ${ }^{24}$ While it makes sense, and is indeed advisable, to provide staff with a mechanism to seek guidance and clarity on whether their holdings pose a conflict of interest, this process is not transparent to the public. The public does not have a record of these permissions. Even though the public can with some effort view the financial disclosures of senior committee staff,

[^5]they are unable to see whether their clear conflicts of interest have been reviewed and waived by the Ethics Committee.

IV. Conclusion

Based on CLC's review of Senate committee staff financial disclosures, there is reason to believe that multiple staff members own stock that conflicts with the jurisdiction of their committees. Owning these stocks violates Senate Rule 37.7, absent any guidance or written permission from the Ethics Committee.

CLC respectfully requests that the Ethics Committee publicly disclose whether the staff members' holdings described herein are in compliance with Rule 37.7, and if so, provide further clarification on how the rule is applied and enforced.
